New arrivals of Fine American made Novelty Dress Goods, 36 inches wide, all wool, 25 cents—handsome green, blue, tan, grey and slate mixtures, if worth made the price, they'd be more—we'd risk a fortune that you never saw the like of these for a quarter.

At 35 cents—all wool, 46 in. wide, solid black grounds, with a tiny green or blue thread—about check—only these two shades, that's why this 50 cent value is selling for 35 cents.

At 75 cents—all wool Tweed suitings, 46 inches wide, several styles of these, one of the nobbiest being a two-toned mixture overshot with a fancy colored bourette, if it were possible to get such goods elsewhere, you'd be asked at least a dollar for them.

Fine Foreign Suitings, 50 cents to $6.50.

Black and white check Swiss Taffeta Silks, 25 cents a yard, choice firm silks for now and summer wear; the way they're selling is proof positive of their unusual worth, but there's lots here for you, and you'll want some when you see.

If you'll see samples of the new Wash Goods, from 5 cents Scotch Lawns to finest Grass Linens at $1.25, we know where you'll buy them.

Fine, sheer, dainty Organdies that are a revelation of what the world's best makers can do; of what elegance is here for your choosing, 20, 25, 30 and 35 cents.

You only need to see the goods, or samples, and know the price to know why this store's always growing, why people who go where they get the nice goods for the least money buy here.

When you do know this, you're shrewd enough, have your own interests enough at heart to see YOUR advantage in buying here.

A GOOD EMBLEM.

AND A GOOD MOTTO TO GO ALONG WITH IT, TOO.

"Esperance Bien." After the Log's Lure Gets Its Share and Quits Business Ottawa's Farmer-Manufacturer.

COLUMBUS, O., April 15.—[Special.]—Ottawa county is among the newer counties, being organized in 1840, with a population of 2,248. Fifty years later, its population had increased to 21,974, and is now about 25,000.

In point of wealth it has increased from $200,000 in 1840, to $6,868,786 in 1890. The real values in 1840 were about $400,000, in 1890 not less than $12,000,000.

Up to 1851 Ottawa was attached to Lucas, Seneca, Sandusky, Wood and Hancock for representative purposes, and substantially the same counties.

The former ones increased salaries and multiplied official positions; the present one has not fallen behind them.

The former ones were aggressive in the tax laws; the present one is chargeable with the same fault.

The previous ones piled up mountains of local bonded indebtedness; the present one bids fair to pile them on Osa.

And as though to show its contempt of all salutary restrictions the present body is in the daily practice of enacting special laws in the face of a recent decision of the supreme court which, if carried to its logical sequence, would invalidate from $35,000,000 to $40,000,000 of the outstanding local bonds.

The full meaning of the decision in the Padlock road case does not seem to be comprehended. True enough, the attempt is being made to prevent repudiation in that case by certain legislation, but there is not a county in the state which has not done the same.

Probably the best piece of humor which has bubbled up in the legislature was the letter sent to Senator Shryock by a newspaper man in Zanesville, who, having read of the examination and registration of pretty nearly every one from herb doctor to post-hole digger, wanted a bill introduced and passed requiring the examination and registration of editors.

Along the same line was the suggestion of a bill by a Seneca farmer for the purpose of "fixing the standard and limiting the eligibility of members of the Ohio legislature." The plan is simplicity itself: "Be it enacted, that no person shall hereafter be eligible to a seat in the Ohio legislature unless he is wholly unfitted to perform the duties of any useful occupation in life."

There wouldn't be much of a scramble among candidates under such a law, and while such a legislature might not do much good, it would not be as potential for harm as some we have been having lately.

A DEADLY HALLUCINATION.

A Chicago Man Murders His Children and Himself, Fearing Starvation.

CHICAGO, April 15.—While brooding over the idea that his family would suffer from want, John Lehman shot and killed his three young children in this city. After committing the terrible deed Lehman attempted to end his life by hanging, but failing in this he turned the revolver upon himself and sent a bullet through his heart, killing himself instantly.

For eight years Lehman had been in the employ of the West Chicago Street Railway company and during the greater part of that time had been a driver on the Center avenue line.

Lehman was 41 years of age. His wife was 38, and his children were 10, 8 and 6 years of age. The family lived comfortably and wanted for nothing. Notwithstanding that fact Lehman worried a great deal.

He had a fear that some day his savings would be swept away and his family would become dependent on charity.

Two of these little ones are blind. They sit in the blackest darkness, afraid to move hand or foot in their awful helplessness. If the police are correct, these two mites of misery were deprived of their sight by unnatural parents that they might win pennies of the charitable public.

Japan Getting Strict.

SHANGHAI, April 15.—It is stated here that the Japanese government has peremptorily forbidden the proposed Japanese industrial undertakings in and about this city.

This legislature has its record yet to complete. If the dominant party imagine that as far as it has gone it has either met public expectation or given average satisfaction, it makes a woful mistake.

It is a reasonable hope on the part of the people, without regard to political bias, that the new state administration and legislature would do something to retrieve and correct the results of the bad administration and worse legislation of the previous four years.

But so far from that being done, it has not even been attempted.

The two preceding legislatures were reckless and extravagant in expenditures, and impotent in revenues. The present has not only been as bad, but worse.

The former ones increased salaries and multiplied official positions; the present one has not fallen behind them.

The former ones were aggressive in the tax laws; the present one is chargeable with the same fault.

It has, moreover, signed away all of its opportunities. There is no chance for it to improve that record from this time on. Every addition to it will make it worse. The worst of the jobs, or among the worst of the jobs, are yet to be consummated, and many of them will be no matter how thoroughly they may be disguised.
